

Sensory Backpack

If you are finding your visit to our museum a little overwhelming then maybe our sensory backpack will help.

The back packs are free and located in the entrance lobby – ask for one from any of our staff and they will sign one out for your use. Just hand the backpack back at the end of your visit.

Inside the backpack you will find:

- a magnifying glass to help you focus and see some of the small things in our displays.
- ear defenders to help make things a little quieter if it is a noisy day.
- toys which are good to fidget with as most of the objects in our museum are fragile and so can't be touched.
- a small, soft dragon to keep you company as you explore our building
- a sensory map of the museum
- Mystical Bests Trail Sheet – you can complete this during your visit and then take it home with you
